Glyde Inn

Businesses shortlisted for Good Food awards

Jason Newman

TWO Louth businesses have been recognised among the finalists in the prestigious Good Food Ireland 20th Anniversary Awards 2026.

The Glyde Inn has been shortlisted in the Pub Experience of the Year category, while Oriel Sea Salt has earned a place among the finalists in the Sweet & Savoury Producer category.

The nominations recognise the quality and dedication of two local businesses that play an important role in showcasing the best of Louth's food and hospitality offering.

The Good Food Ireland Awards celebrate 20 years of recognising excellence across Ireland's food, drink, hospitality and culinary tourism sectors. The awards highlight businesses and individuals who champion Irish produce and contribute to the country's reputation as a leading destination for food tourism.

The Glyde Inn, located in Annagassan, is a well-known local hospitality venue, while Oriel Sea Salt represents the county's food production sector, producing sea salt inspired by the coastal waters of the region.

The awards also recognise the wider contribution made by food and hospitality businesses to local economies, supporting jobs, promoting regional produce and attracting visitors to towns and rural communities.

The winners will be announced at the Good Food Ireland 20th Anniversary Celebration and Gala Awards Ceremony, which takes place at the Inter-Continental Dublin on Monday, November 16, 2026, in association with FBD Insurance.

The event will bring together representatives from across Ireland's food, drink and hospitality industries to celebrate the businesses and people helping shape the future of Irish food tourism.
